TO BE SOLD,
A Quantity of choice PICKLED
COD-FISH,
At SAMUEL COWDREY'S,
Opposite the Old Slip-Market.

NEW-YORK.
SCRIVENER'S OFFICE, &c.
Established in June, 1764, by JOHN C. KNAPP,
ATTORNEY at LAW de B. R.

WHO constantly attends, and on the usual easy fees, gives the most candid advice in all cases of law and equity, founded on those truths which must prevent every the least considerate person from commencing or defending such suits as can only be productive of trouble and expence, many times to persons in low circumstances utter ruin.

Deeds, Wills, or any other writings revised, and a satisfactory opinion given as to their validity. — Also absolute Conveyances, Mortgages, Wills, Assignments, Memorials, Petitions, Articles of Co-partnership, Chatter Parties, Letters of Licence, &c. drawn effectually to answer the purposes intended: And Letters of Attorney, Certificates, or any other papers, perfected under the city seal, or otherwise as the case may require.

Persons afflicted to recover their property in England, and other distant parts: — Also debts recovered in an expeditious, easy manner, at most times without law.

Persons under difficult circumstances assisted, with strict secrecy.

Executors and Administrators instructed in the due execution of their office, whereby to avoid the many difficulties, trouble and expence, which often arise from the want of knowledge therein.

Seafaring men, and other Strangers, who many times meet with difficulty, in matters not altogether relative to the law, will be particularly assisted.

Since the commencement of this Office, many very considerable Sums of money have been negotiated, as well on real and personal securities, as on bottomry, and the discount of good bonds, bills and notes; for which last purposes plenty of cash is at all times to be had, and, where plate security can be deposited, money can be procured.

Mr. Knapp begs leave to assure the Public, of his continued endeavours to extend the utility of this Office to all ranks of people, by giving the most easy access to fees, &c. And, as it is his earnest desire to acquire general esteem, so it shall be his peculiar study to approve himself on all occasions, the Public's faithful and very devoted servant.

Broad-Street, January 6, 1772.

TO BE LET, or SOLD.

A Small FARM on Long-Island, exactly opposite to the Coffee-house bridge, and adjoining to that of Alexander Golden, Esq. — The whole of the land is an excellent orchard, and garden, of the very best grafted apple, and other fruit trees; in the garden there are about one hundred feet square, planted in the very best manner asparagus, which yields plentifully every season, and of the very best kind; the situation is as pleasant as any in the province, and its being so near to the market, renders it very commodious and profitable for a gardener:
For further particulars, inquire of LOBEWICK BARTON,
in Chapel-Street.

WANTED,

A Sober, honest and discreet Man, who is Master of his Business, in making Pearl and Pot-Ash: Such an one properly recommended, will meet with very good Encouragement, (to proceed on Business as early in the Spring as the Weather will admit of) by inquiring of Theodorus Van Wyck, or Dirck Brinckerhoff, in New-York, or William Provost, at Hackinsack, where the works are erected.

Office, to Stone-Street, nearly opposite Mr. Simon's — where she continues to sell as usual, all Sorts of Pickles, amongst which are, the best of Walnuts—Peaches—Cucumbers—Mangoes—Beans—Love Apples and Onions, &c.

To be sold, and entered upon the 1st of April next,
A FARM pleasantly situated, on the east side of Hempsted harbour, on Long Island, containing 334 acres of good land, 70 whereof are well timbered, with some fields of locust trees, and a sufficient quantity of salt marsh; the whole in good fence, great part of cedar posts. There is on it a good dwelling-house and barn, three orchards of the best grafted apple trees, with a quantity of other fruit, and is otherwise well improved.

The conditions will be made easy to the purchaser, and an indefeasible title given, by William and Jacob Walton, and Co.

New-York, January 8, 1772.

By Captain Taylor, from London, and Captain Lawrence, from Bristol, arrived at Philadelphia, and the East of Halifax Packet Boat, Captain Richardson, who arrived here on Friday
last, with the Mail from Petersburg, we have the London Papers to the 15th November, containing the following Advice.

PETERSBURG, October 8.

LETTERS from Moscow bring an account of a great tumult in that city, occasioned by some regulations
made by the Archbishop R. checking the contagion, and particularly by his removing certain objects of the devotion of the populace, to which the sick and those in health crowded promiscuously. The mob broke into the Archbishop's palace, and plundered it, destroyed the pest houses, and committed several other disorders. The Archbishop fled to a neighbouring monastery, where he was attacked and cruelly murdered the next morning. Great numbers of the populace were killed by the troops before they could be dispersed; but as Count Orlov was expected to arrive at Moscow on the 6th instant, it was hoped that his presence and authority would effectually quiet the disturbance.

Constantinople, Sept. 10. Abaza Pacha and several other Officers have been beheaded by order of the Grand Signior;
for having abandoned the Crimea without making any effort to defend it: Their heads were exposed at the gate of the Seraglio.

Frontiers of Poland, Sept. 23. The Russians have not yet made themselves masters of Balachwa, in the Crimea; and it is asserted, that the great dearth of provisions in those parts will prevent their making any solid establishment in that country.

Warsaw, Oct. 2. The grand Russian army is encamped near Lake Kahul, four leagues from the Danube. A body of 30 000 Ottoman troops occupies a camp before Giurgewo;
defended by four strong entrenchments. Count Romanzow has ordered Generals Samoylen and Iseltzen to go and attack that camp; and if they do not succeed, it is said, he is determined to march thither himself.

The Russians have lately attempted to surprise Tyniec, and take it from the Confederates, but they did not succeed;
on the contrary, they lost 450 men in the attempt.

Warsaw, Oct. 4. A process is carrying on, by order of the Empress of Russia, against such officers as are accused of having contributed to the repulse at Giurgewo.

The Duchy of Courland is in such a ferment, as to endanger the peace of that state.

Batavia, Oct. 7. We have received advice, that a felucca lately entered the river of Valence, having on board 30,000 lives on account of the rebels who live in the mountain;
but we know not from whence this money came.

Moscow, Oct. 8. Letters from Cairo and Alexandria of the 14th and 17th of August advise, that Ali Bey, partly from the want of means to continue his expeditions, and partly with a desire of adopting a better plan, has renounced the conquests he had made in Syria, to secure those in Egypt;
and contents himself for the present with the possession of that kingdom, and that of the Black Sea.

Rome, Oct. 12. Prince Edward Stuart arrived in this city yesterday from Viterbo.

Batavia, Oct. 15. There has been a brisk skirmish between the rebels and the French, in the neighbourhood of Calvi, wherein the latter were worsted.

Leghorn, Oct. 16. The Duke of Gloucester, who arrived here a few days from Genoa, is at present indisposed, and keeps his apartment.

Hydr, Oct. 31. Their High Mightinesses have just issued a placard concerning the plague which now rages at Moscow,
and cautions off a great number of people.

L O N D O N.

October 12. Some private Letters from the Hague say, that the States intend to have a fleet, or a strong squadron, at sea early in the spring; the motive of the setting out,
and the real destination of which are very differently represented.

The last letters from Paris advise, that the Duc d'Harcourt, who sometime since refused taking the command of the troops in Normandy, is banished to Saville, in the forest of Brittany.

Orders are sent down to Portsmouth for six of the men of war now lying in the harbour, to be fitted out with all expedition; they are to be stationed at Spithead for their more speedy sailing on any emergency.

Considerable betts are laid at the west end of the town, on the delivery of Port Egmont up to the English by the Spaniards. The Hound sloop of war, which was to be dispatched to bring advices, is expected home the beginning of December next.

Amongst the jewels of an eminent Jeweller of this city, is a clock of exquisite workmanship, designed for the Grand Signior; the case is massy gold finely embossed, overlaid with diamonds; some as large as a guinea and larger, of the finest lustre; pearls as big as bird's eggs hang to two gold enamelled trees that grow out of the gold rock, on which the clock stands, as its pedestal, a tree on each side, the fruit of which is pearls, and leaves of emeralds, two great emeralds, as big as pears are fixed on the two front pillars, the characters on the dial plate, which are Turkish, are of diamonds, so are the hands.

Wednesday a youth about fourteen was tried before Sir John Fielding at Guildhall, Westminster, and was sentenced to be transported for life; on his leaving the bar, he said aloud, thank you, Sir John, for d—n my e—s you have saved me from the gallows.

A Gentleman reading yesterday a paragraph in the Newcastle paper, of a person's having married a Lady of fortune who was dumb, an Irishman standing by cried out, "Arrah, by my shoul, and he was very lucky, for if he cuts her throat after he's got the money she can't tell who did it."

It is rumoured that a treaty is on the carpet between the courts of London and Copenhagen, for Great-Britain to be furnished with thirty sail of Danish men of war of the line when wanted.

The Pitt, Dunderson, from Virginia to London, has been on shore off Deal, but is got off with considerable damage.

It is whispered, that there is at present a great division amongst the Rockingham party. This fracas is said to be brought about by some late negotiations in the alley.

SHIP NEWS EXTRAORDINARY.

Came down and sailed, the Wilkes fire-ship. Aground on the Horn-point, the Oliver West Indianman. Run ashore
the Republican, Captain Sawbridge: It is thought this vessel will be got off without damage. Remain the Remembrance, Cresty; the City, Trader, Nisb; the Lord Holland Paterfon; and the Malagrita, Townsend. Wind full North M.

October 17. The authenticity of the following circumstances are assured of by a genuine letter which arrived yesterday from Leghorn, which asserts, that his Royal Highness the Duke of Gloucester had paid a visit to Genoa, where he was received with great ceremony by the nobles;
and the second night arrival at the above city, he went to the Assembly, into which, soon after, unexpectedly entered the unfortunate Charles Edward Stuart, commonly called the Young Chevalier; this circumstance, for a short time, caused great speculation, but the latter presently withdrew, and by order of the State left that metropolis the next morning —
The above letter confirms the account of the death of the ingenious Dr. Smollet, who died at the Baths of Pisa, and not at Leghorn, as mentioned in a morning paper of yesterday.

It is said, that fresh proposals have been made from the Court of Russia for Admiral Elphinstone to enter again into the Russian service.

The last letters from Leghorn mention, that the French now carry on a very considerable trade with the island of Corsica.

Extract of a letter from the Hague, October 26.

The actions of our East-India Company fall a few days ago in a manner almost unprecedented. Various were the conjectures formed of the foundation of this fall; but it has since been discovered to have been occasioned merely by the artifices of desperate gamblers, in order to make dupes of the unwary; the actions have begun to rise again.

Prince Galitzin, the Russian Minister here, impatiently expects a courier from Gen. Count de Romanzow, having received a letter from that officer last Sunday, advising that the Grand Vizir, encouraged by the little advantage he gained over the Russian troops at Giurgewo, had passed the Danube with his whole army; and that he (Count de Romanzow) was marching in order to meet him and give him battle; so that we may expect to hear of an engagement, the consequences of which may probably determine whether the war will continue, or peace be concluded between the Turks and the Russians.

Some letters from Copenhagen insinuate, that the King of Denmark has removed one of his oldest Ministers, who has done essential service to his country, and obliged him to retire, with a considerable pension. People talk differently of his Majesty's motives for taking this step.

Certain advices have been received from Paris, which say, that the King of Spain has actually insisted on the co-operation of the Court of France with him, in a scheme, to be put in motion early the ensuing spring; and in case of non-compliance, threatened to dissolve the alliance now subsisting between the two Crowns. Lewis was greatly alarmed at this, and forced to take his head out of the bosom of his fair sweetheart, and betake himself to study. Since this, every method has been taken to drain money from the subjects, and some of the most oppressive kind that ever was attempted in that kingdom before.

By the latest accounts from Germany, things do not appear to be in the pacific state as would wish, on many parts of the continent; so that notwithstanding all the industry exerted to keep the peace the ensuing spring is expected to be a martial one, and that some campaigns, both offensive and defensive, are formed to take place very early. Count Guigne has had ample reason transmitted to him from our ministry, for the freedom with which he has been treated in some recent publications. We are told, however, for a certainty, that he will never more set foot on English ground; and from this we may suppose, that some very ill-considered feelings have been smuggled up in secrecy, which, to have been discovered, would have been the cause of a more dangerous flame in the nation than that which happened at Portsmouth.

Numbers of copies of the paper called the Whistler, relative to the fire at Portsmouth, are now very current at Paris, not only in the English, but also in the French language. These scandalous things have had credit enough to create Count Guigne many enemies among those who are peacefully disposed, as they apprehend nothing less than a war will be the consequence, which, in general, they are utterly averse to.

The Polly, M^r Eane, from Georgia to London, was totally lost last Sunday on the Dorchester coast, near Abbotbury and all the crew perished.

Count Guigne, since his departure from this kingdom, has been almost constantly with his Sovereign. The excuse he made to our court for his so suddenly retiring, is known to be mere excuse, as he had been making private preparations for some time, and even told some of his intimates that he should not return here any more. From this extraordinary conduct, we may easily guess that something is hatching by the court of France, which bodes no good to this nation.

Private letters from Paris mention, that the Count de Guignes, himself at court is at an end, and that he will not return again to England in a public character, nor is any person yet appointed to succeed him.

Wednesday the Lords of the Admiralty ordered their Marshal to seize a ship in the river; 'tis supposed she contains a number of pirates.

October 29. Yesterday application was made to the Lord Mayor by the friends of John Eyre, Esq. committed on the oaths of Thomas Fielding, William Holder, William Payne and William Nash, for a clandestinely stealing eleven quires of writing paper. The circumstances were so strong against the prisoner, on whom the goods were found, and no defence whatever being set up by him before the magistrate who made the commitment, that the Lord Mayor refused to bail him. The Alderman who committed him had before refused to bail him, as it was alleged that no instance whatever had been known of a person bailed under such circumstances. Mr. Eyre was however bailed yesterday by Lord Mansfield, himself in only 300l. and three Scottish securities in 100l. each, a Kinloch, Farquar, and Innis. Eyre has since made his escape.

The writer of the Whistler hath been convicted at some day encouraged by the Ministry, with a design, not of punishing the licentiousness, but of restraining the liberty of the Press; which (however they may boast of their power of doing mischief) will never be submitted to by the people.

It is reported that Britain, who is confined in Reading goal, will be brought to town and tried on his own confession for high treason, in conspiring against the life of a great personage.

A plan for a new American representation has been adopted by a noble Earl, and will be laid before an august assembly at their first meeting.

The Otterly, Lizard, from Piscataqua in New-England, will be totally lost at the Isle of Wight, where she lately ran ashore; the cargo of masts, yards, &c. for Portsmouth Dockyard, and the ships materials will be saved.

Oct. 31. It is thought now by many, that the first blow will be struck by the Spaniards, at the return of the Jamaica fleet, and that they will then make themselves masters of the West-Indies.

A report is circulated, that the French are making out a list of all the men in France able to bear arms.

Nov. 2. The Princess Dowager of Wales is certainly very much indisposed. Her disorder is a nervous fever. The report of her Royal Highness's having a cancer in her mouth is untrue.

The Conolly, Miller, from Dublin, to Philadelphia, is supposed to be lost on the coast of Wales.

It is said that proper inquiries have been made, by order, after the Pierre Rogers, said by Britain to have been the principal in the late fire at Portsmouth; but all the letters from Paris, Calais, Dunkirk, and other towns on the coast of France, import, that no such person as Pierre Rogers, or any one under any other character that could be supposed to be the party sought, is, or has been, in any of those places.

Count de Guignes has written this last week a long letter to the Earl of Rochford, disclaiming, in the strongest terms, any previous knowledge of the fire at Portsmouth, or even of any such persons as the parties named as the incendiaries; demanding, at the same time, of his Lordship, that the false accusers (Britain and Dudley) may have such exemplary punishment as the injured honour of the Count has a right to require.

Extract of a letter from Warsaw, Oct. 16.

"The last letters from Count Romanzow to Mr. Saldern, the Russian Ambassador in this court, advise, that Major Bittick on the 26th of August made himself master of a little Ottoman fleet, consisting of four galleys, three frigates, and three small boats, going from Haccio, to Macknow; the Turks had 230 men drowned in this affair, and lost ten pieces of cannon, and a great quantity of ammunition, sails, &c. Capt. Hadzi Azul and two other Turks were made prisoners. After this victory Major Bittick returned to Brailow with all the booty."

Last Wednesday Mr. Alderman Townsend returned from Norfolk to Bruce Castle, Edinburgh. The next day certain officers, by virtue of warrants from the commissioners of the land and window taxes, visited Mr. Townsend's chancell for the respective of 100000 to the amount of 2000. Mr. Townsend protested that, on account of the improper representation of the county of Middlesex, he would not pay the taxes, and adhering uniformly to this motive, he has suffered this bill to be executed, having voluntarily refused payment on every demand. The consequence of this measure will be a trial in the court of King's Bench, wherein this grand national point will be contested on either side, in the most strenuous manner, by the ablest advocates. Whatever may be the determination there, an appeal to the House of Lords will undoubtedly be brought, and the whole proceeding will be regarded as a case on any contest in the volume of state trials.

By letters this day from Jamaica we learn, that a lady is dead in that island worth a considerable fortune; and that she has left the bulk of it to Mr. Wilkes.

According to advice brought by a vessel from Lisbon, the Portuguese are using the utmost diligence in repairing all the men of war now in her sea ports, and it is said that Spain has agreed to send her four ships of the line from Cadix, in order to make up a formidable squadron for the East-Indies.

The Urubla, Vandermarin, from Holland, brings advice that a squadron of ten men of war is full on the point of sailing from Flushing for the Island of Sumatra, in the East-Indies. Nov. 6. The late Lord Baltimore, we hear, caught his death by a journey over the Roman Campagna, at a season particularly beneficial, and from which he was earnestly advised by his celebrated friend, Linnaeus, of Stockholm, with whom he maintained a constant correspondence.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Jamaica to his correspondent in London, dated Sept. 2, 1771.

"I have little news to send you from this quarter; but as probably you may hear of an insult having been offered to the British flag in this quarter of the globe, by the Spaniards, the case, as far as I can learn, is as follows:—There are small schooners of ten guns commanded by a Lieutenant, with about fifteen hands, employed in his Majesty's service to cruise in these seas; one of these schooners being lately off Carthagena, the Spanish Governor (supposing her an illicit trader) sent two guarda costas to bring her into port, which they accordingly did, notwithstanding the commander protested his commission; but on their arrival in port, and finding her the King's vessel, he was civilly dismissed, and lately arrived here. As the commander of the schooner suffered himself to be carried in without firing on them, it is looked upon as degrading the British flag, for which he has been tried, and (I am told) is suspended from his employment. People here are in general sorry for him, as he is esteemed a good officer. I think it seems to be allowed on all sides; that it would have been imprudent to have maintained a fight with a force so much superior; but (say they) for the honour of the British flag he ought to have fired into them, and then have struck. This, as nearly as I know, is the state of the case; and which, I doubt not, will make a great noise in the English newspapers; and by being related a few times over, will, like a snow-ball, gather until it becomes a mountain."

"There is a ship of the line to sail to-morrow morning (as it is said) for Carthagena, to demand the release of some English prisoners kept there; and likewise to demand satisfaction for the insult offered to the British flag."

Lord Sandwich, when he heard that the Hawke was taken, cried out, "Well done Spain, but if we don't make you pay for the insult, there is not a spark of courage remaining in England." The event will prove how far the national courage survives, and what degree of credit is due to the assertions of his Lordship.

Would the British Court, but show a proper resentment, says a correspondent, for the seizure of the Hawke sloop at Carthagena, they would immediately order an embargo on all the Spanish ships in the Thames, and all other ports. Such a proceeding has been, and has wrought the desired effect.

A correspondent says, that though the Commander of the Hawke schooner is broke by a Court Martial for suffering himself to be taken without firing a gun, yet when the true state of facts is laid before the public, the officer (who has behaved gallantly on many former occasions) will not be found exceedingly in fault. The Hawke had but eight guns and 30 men; whereas the two guarda costas, by whom she was taken, had each 12 guns and sixty men; in such a situation resistance might have been very brave, but certainly it could not be thought very wise; and as the Commander was answerable to God and his country, for every life unnecessarily lost, the calls of justice, the calls of humanity were surely louder than the more pride of preserving a reputation already established by many signal services.

Extract of a letter from the Hague, dated Oct. 10.

"We have this moment received, by express, letters from Vienna, which mark, that Prince Lobkowitz, who sits out from the Austrian court of St. Petersburg, has happily fulfilled the great object he had in charge; that in consequence of the Emperor's steady adherence to the first proposal which he had made to the Empress of Russia, namely, "That he would never suffer the Russian army to pass the Danube," the Carina has at last accepted of an amicable accommodation with the Porte; and it is confidently asserted, that the Carina is to restore the Porte all such territories as her armies have conquered, either in Asia or in the Archipelago; that her troops are to evacuate the towns of Gotschum, or Brailow, Ismail, &c. On the other hand, the whole of Tartary, north of the river of Asoph, is to be ceded to her. Carina Majesty, in full sovereignty; together with the Crimea lower territory, which is to be held of the Imperial Crown of Russia, by the Khan, as a tributary fief of the Russian empire. The Porte is also to make her Carina Majesty a pecuniary compensation."

"That with respect to the Emperor of Germany, the two extensive provinces of Moldavia and Wallachia, north of the Danube, are to be ceded to him in perpetuity; but that the present King of Poland, is to enjoy the revenues, and to have the government of them during his natural life; and that his Polish Majesty, in return, is to abdicate the kingdom of Poland, which is to be guaranteed by the high contracting parties to Prince Albert of Saxony, who for that purpose is to be elected King of Poland, with hereditary succession."

"With respect to the King of Prussia, those Polish territories which bear the name of Prussia, are to be annexed to his Prussian Majesty's dominions, an independent sovereignty."

"These letters further mark, that the Pretender, who has been lately during several months in the Polish territories, is totally neglected in this partition treaty."

Nov. 6. Letters from Germany advise, that his Prussian Majesty's health is visibly on the decline.

The last letters from the Continent advise, that his Prussian Majesty has actually marched an army of 30,000 men into Polish Prussia, which are to penetrate as far as the borders of Silesia: The command is given to General Thönningleson, Knight of the Black Eagle.

We learn by letters of good authority, that the Empress of Russia has lately transmitted to the Court of Vienna her last resolution relative to a pacification with the Grand Signor; and that she agrees to give up all the conquered countries, upon condition, that the expenses of the war are reimbursed her: It is asserted that these last proposals are entirely disapproved by the court of Vienna, and it is supposed the conclusion of peace depends more upon the will of certain foreign Powers, than upon that of the two belligerent ones.

Nov. 9. We are informed of the following fact:—His Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland being on a visit some time ago where Mrs. Horton, sister to the member for Middlesex, was present, fell so desperately in love with her, as to make a declaration of his passion that evening. For that time she passed it off as a piece of railery; but the Duke continuing his visit to her every day after, alarmed her so far as to acquaint her brother with the particulars. The Col. immediately waited on his Highness, and in the most respectful terms told him, "that though he could not expect the honour of his alliance, he hoped he had a hand and heart to protect his sister from dishonour; and therefore begged he would discontinue his visits." This resolute expostulation, for some time, had the desired effect; but at last, finding all his happiness depended on possessing her, he sent for the Colonel, and told him he was ready to marry his sister directly. The Col. took him at his word.

We are assured, that a very spirited Remonstrance is preparing, and with which Mr. Harris, our Minister at Madrid, will set out for that Court in a few days. He is commanded to demand a categorical answer respecting the designs of the Spaniards in South-America and the West-Indies, and know whether the Court of Madrid countenances the proceedings of 'Guarda Costas in that part of the world. Prince Massareno sent off an extraordinary Courier on Thursday night to Madrid, after having had a long conference with Lord Suffolk, relative, it is thought, to the present critical posture of affairs in South-America.

A very unusual face of dissatisfaction, it is said, appears in a sister kingdom; where, notwithstanding the address of the ministerial agents, the fetters imposed upon the people begin to be felt, and the veil which has so long obscured their sight, is already much too far removed to suffer them to continue peaceably under it much longer.

A Squadron of ten sail of the line is preparing to be sent to guard our settlements in the West-Indies; two regiments are to be embarked for Jamaica.

Nov. 12. Yesterday afternoon another express arrived from his Royal Highness the Duke of Gloucester at Leghorn, which confirms the former agreeable and pleasing account of his being entirely recovered. The Messenger on his landing crossed the country, leaving the metropolis on the left, and went first to Lady Waldegrave at St. Leonard's Lodge near Windsor, and then to their Majesties at Richmond.

Extract of a letter from Calais, Nov. 7.

"His Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland arrived at this place on Sunday last. He had with him two Ladies, and some servants. They went immediately to the Silver Lion, and stayed there till Monday afternoon, and then set off for St. Omer's."

Extract of a private letter from Hamburg, Nov. 1.

"It is said for certain that an account is arrived of the King of Prussia's preparations for war in Saxony, that he is to begin his march the 6th inst. with 10,000 men. It is added that the troops from Brunswick are the first to begin. The reason is, that he has discovered the Saxons have assisted the Confederates in Poland."

A very great Personage last Thursday, in Council, after expressing the most tender concern for the Duke of Gloucester, thought proper to take notice, that the late act of the D. C. would cause an eternal separation between himself and the D. Upon which tears being seen to gush, a motion was immediately made to adjourn the Council; but the great Personage, refusing his wonted firmness, told the Council, that no private concerns respecting himself should ever detain the public business of the kingdom, and ordered them to proceed.

His Royal Highness the D. of C. was married to the Hon. Mrs. Horton on the 4th day of Oct. last, at her house in Hertford-street, May-fair. When this matter could no longer be concealed, the married pair went to Calais (not with Col. Luttrell for he is in town) from whence his Royal Highness wrote a letter to the King, in which he acquainted his Majesty, "That he was married to a most amiable and worthy Lady; that indeed it was in his Majesty's power to deprive him of "several thousand pounds a year, but not of the "inexpressible happiness he felt." This letter, as may be supposed, occasioned much vexation. What further consequence it will have, is not yet guessed.

Mr. Dunning was three hours with the Duke of Cumberland upon his setting out.

The D. of C. was only attended from England by a Mr. Fettiplace, who wore Mrs. Horton's livery. His H. called himself, at Calais, Chevalier Johnson.

The account in some of the papers, of the Spanish Ambassador's preparing to leave this kingdom, we are informed is destitute of foundation.

The Brussels Gazette, which was received this day, has the following article, dated Leghorn, October 30.—The Duke of Gloucester continues ill, and our Physicians have already had several consultations on his indisposition.

The moment the Hawke Schooner was taken by the Spaniards, Sir George Rodney demanded peremptory reparation from the Governor of Carthagena: a sufficient time has not elapsed for us to receive the Governor's answer, and our Ministry cannot proceed to a declaration of war, before they know whether there is a necessity of commencing hostilities. The preparations made previous to our convention with the Spanish Court, will enable us, on the shortest notice to set with all due spirit and propriety.

ANTIGUA, Sept. 28.

Left Saturday arrived at English Harbour, his Majesty's ship sea horse, Capt. Pauley, on this station; and we hear the St. Albans, of 64 guns, Capt. Douglas; and the Crescent of 32 guns, Capt. Conner, are shortly expected to join the squadron here under the command of Admiral Mann. It is said besides the above, there are more ships expected on this station, the names not yet known.

CHARLESTOWN, S. Carolina Nov. 26.

The ship new Elizabeth, Capt. Rob. Manly, who sail'd since the 30th of Aug. last for London, on the 11th Sept. lat. 38, lon. 62. met with a violent hurricane, which obliged him to cut away his main and mizen masts, having 7 feet water in the hold. When the hurricane was over they cleared the ship of water, got up jury-masts, and on the 15th, (meeting with Capt. Laughton in a ship from Glasgow bound to Virginia, after receiving all the assistance in his power to give) proceeded on their voyage. Mr. Charles Mill, late of Charleston, merchant, died on board Capt. Manly's ship the 3d of Sept.

Last Friday was executed here, according to his sentence, John Irvin, for the murder of his wife. John and Theophilus Williams for house breaking, Benjamin West for stealing a negro, and John Jenkins for Burglary, were sentenced, to be hanged at the same time, but it pleased the Governor to respite the two first to the 10th of Jan. next, and to pardon the two last.

NEW-YORK, January 16.

Tuesday last the General Assembly of this Province met here, and the next Day his Excellency made the following Speech to both Houses, viz.

Gentlemen of the Council, and
Gentlemen of the General Assembly.

WHILE I reflect on the important Duties attendant on the elevated Station in which it has graciously pleased my Royal Master to place me, and that I have the Honour to succeed the Noble Personage who so justly merited the high Applause he received from a grateful People, my Heart is filled with every sensible Anxiety;—but when I review the honourable and affectionate Addresses presented to me on my Arrival, my Spirits are cheered with the most pleasing Expectations: That these may be realized, I am now to entreat the Aid of your united and generous Efforts in support of an Administration, which can be only successful in Proportion to the Assistance I receive from you.

THROUGH the extensive Beneficence of my Sovereign, unlooked for and unexpected, I appear in the Rank I now stand before you. Finding my own Health, and that of my Family greatly impaired by a Southern Climate, I had requested, and actually obtained, the King's Leave to return to my native Country; soon after which, three weighty Objects presented themselves to my View; the Distractions of the Province I was in, my Appointment to this Government, and the Regard due to a Family oppressed with Sickness. On the one Side, the Support of a People, Friends to the Laws, attached to the Constitution, and loyal to their Prince, was offered me, to suppress an Insurrection that had even subverted their civil Liberties; on the other, my Inclination led me to accept the more friendly Invitation to this happy Climate, where I expected to reap those Benefits which my Family have since, in a great Measure, experienced in their Health;—public Duty, however, prevailing over every other passionate Desire, my Honour and my Services I held engaged, in the public Cause, free from any Motive of Revenge, or feeling other Regretment than what sprung from a Sense of my Country's Wrongs. The Enterprise was successful, and the Event crowned with the perfect Restoration of good Order, and public Peace to the Country; Blessings under Providence effected by a small Body of Officers and Men, whose spirited Conduct has made the deepest Impressions of Gratitude on my Mind: This Service unavoidably prevented my paying an earlier Obedience to his Majesty's Commands, and my own Wishes, by repairing to this Government.

Gentlemen of the General Assembly.

HAVING nothing in Command, immediately from his Majesty, to communicate; it is my Duty to point out to you the Necessity of framing a Militia Bill upon such a System as will render it most useful in Defence of the Country.

THE Injuries of Time and Storms have so defaced the Fortifications of this City, that they require a thorough Repair, as soon as the Season will admit;—I am, therefore, to recommend to you to provide as well for this essential Work, as the Supplies for his Majesty's Troops, and the Support of Government.

Gentlemen of the Council, and
Gentlemen of the General Assembly.

It is from the very favourable Reception I have met with since my Arrival, that I draw my most assured Hopes of future Happiness among you. Influenced only by Principles, that flow from an honest Heart, I feel an ardent Desire to co-operate with you in every Measure that will best promote the Honour and Dignity of his Majesty's Government, and advance the real Felicity of a People eminently distinguished by their Loyalty to the best of Sovereigns, and affectionate Disposition to their Mother Country.

City of New-York,
16th Jan. 1775.

W. TRYON.

Lately died in England, Christopher Kilby, Esq; formerly a Contractor for North America, well known in this Place, and deservedly esteemed for Benevolence, Hospitality and publick Spirit.

Captain Saunders in 18 Days from St. Kitts, the 15th of Dec. in Lat. 15. 3. Lon. 87. 30, spoke the Brig Fair Lady, Capt. Robinson, from New-London for Hispaniola, ten Days out, all well; and the 15th Inst, in Lat. 17. 27. in Soundings, spoke a Sloop from Boston for North-Carolina.

John Shoak, one of the Scamers that was captured in the Act of Piracy on board the Black Prince, taken up at Boston some Time since and sent to England, was tried there for the same, the 8th of November, found guilty, and immediately received Sentence of Death.

The Harriot Packet, Capt. Lee, sailed from hence for Falmouth, with the Mail, last Friday.

The Sloop Polly, Capt. Thompson, was at Falmouth and would sail from thence for this Port, about 10 Days after Capt. Holderness.

Last Monday the Brig Betty, Capt. Peter Schermernhorn, arrived here in 3 Days from Charleston, on his Passage, the 9th Inst. Lat. 31. 15. spoke the Ship Newry's Assistance, Capt. Chevers, from Newry, to Philadelphia, with Passengers, 3 Weeks out, all well. The Rev. Mr. Pettit of Connecticut, came Passenger with Capt. Schermernhorn.

[The it does not appear that any Thing very extraordinary has happened in public Affairs, either at home or abroad; yet the late Papers contain many Particulars very well worth the Reader's Attention, which we shall publish as soon as room will permit.]

All masters of vessels are forbid carrying off or concealing said Negro; and all persons are forbidden not to harbour him, as they may expect to be dealt with at the law direct.

POET'S CORNER.

A FABLE.
By a LADY.

DRAWN by the sun's declining beam,
A wily fisher sought the stream;
With wreathing worm he play'd his hook,
And cast his line with anxious look;
A sportive fish, of little size,
To seize the tempting morsel tries;
Swims round the bait with eager haste,
While sight anticipates the taste;
Another, through experience wise,
To his unwary comrade cries,
"Ah! simple creature, shun the bait,
Lest keen repentance be thy fate;
For, hush! thou, heed'st not this know,
Death's in the thing you covet so."

M O R A L E.
VICE is the fisher with his hook,
And YOUTH the fish with eager look;
While WISDOM, in the other fish,
Repoves the folly of his wish!
—Life's temptations charm the eye,
Invite the taste, and bid us die.
